

On 2/1/13 3:54 PM, Jason Yust wrote:

> Dear Debbie,

>

> It's my pleasure to inform you that the program committee for the 2013 New > England Conference of Music Theorists was impressed with your proposal, > "Puccini: honorary German?," and would like to include your paper on the > program. We received a large number of outstanding proposals this year, and the > decision process was difficult. The conference is on Friday and Saturday, April > 12–13, at Tufts University in Somerville, Massachusetts. Your session is > tentatively scheduled for Friday afternoon.

>

> Please confirm for me that you will be planning to attend via email as soon as > possible. Further details concerning local arrangements will be available soon > on the NECMT website, www.necmt.org. You can find the membership forms for the > society there now. I will have further instructions concerning the abstract for > your presentation and getting you in contact with your session chair soon.
> Please accept my congratulations on your inclusion in the program. I look > forward to seeing you in April.

>

> All the best,

> Jason Yust, Program Chair, NECMT 2013

>

> --

> Jason Yust

> Assistant Professor of Music Theory

> Boston University College of Fine Arts

> (617) 358–5588