—Diels, Die Fragmente der Vorsokratiker
(Herakleitos), 1.87, Fr. 51

[They do not understand how that which differs with itself is in agreement: harmony consists of opposing tension, like that of the bow and the lyre.]

Könnten wir uns eine Menschwerdung der Dissonanz denken—und was ist sonst der Mensch?

—Nietzsche, Die Geburt der Tragödie

[If we could imagine an incarnation of dissonance—and what is humankind if not that?]

Part of the pleasure [in reading Donne] may be in the natural incongruity which is actually overcome; part of the feeling is the “feel” of an idea. . . . It is an harmony of dissonances.

—T. S. Eliot, “The Clark Lectures”
