1. The Incidence of Taxation

1.1 Overview

1.2 Static Models

1.3 Dynamic Models

David Altig, Alan Auerbach, Laurence Kotlikoff, Kent Smetters, and

Will China Eat Our Lunch or Take Us to Dinner? – Simulating the Transition Paths of the U.S., EU, Japan, and China (with Hans Fehr and Sabine Jokisch), March 2007. Posted on my website.

1.4 Dynamic Models with Asset Markets

1.5 Models with Endogenous Growth

Chamley, Christophe, “Fiscal Policy and Endogenous Growth: Anything New?”, Draft, Boston University, 1992.

1.6 Imperfect Competition and Incidence

2. Efficiency Aspects of Taxation

2.1 The Theory of Excess Burden

Auerbach, A., “The Theory of Excess Burden and Optimal Taxation,” Chapter 1, the Handbook of Public Economics.

2.2 The Theory of Optimal Taxation

2.3 Time Consistency Problems and Third Best Taxation

2.4 Optimal Income Taxation

Stiglitz, J., “Pareto Efficient and Optimal Taxation,” Chapter 15, the Handbook of Public Economics.

3. Public Goods

3.1 The Theory of Non-Local Public Goods

Bergstrom, T., L. Blume, and H. Varian, “On the Private Provision of

3.2 Revelation of Preferences and Public Choice

www.sciencedirect.com

4. Externalities

www.sciencedirect.com

5. Local Public Goods

Rubinfeld, D., “The Economics of the Local Public Sector,” in Handbook of Public Economics, 2 Chapter 11.

5. Social Insurance

6. Cost Benefit Analysis
