Week 2: Reading the scientific literature

Homework due Tuesday, September 21.

Obtain a copy of each of the following literature articles. Critically read these articles and in short essay format and no more that one page for each article, comment on each of the following points for each article. Describe the content of the article, the style in which in which the article was written, and provide a perspective of the impact of the science described in the article. The assignment will be due at the beginning of class on Tuesday.

